

Can Robinhood reverse a transaction?

(Robinhood Guide)

Generally, Robinhood cannot reverse completed [A]1—888—411—3378[A] transactions, such as executed trades or processed transfers. However, if you believe a transaction was made [A]1—888—411—3378[A] in error or you suspect unauthorized activity, it's crucial to contact Robinhood Support [A]1—888—411—3378[A] promptly for assistance.

Can you get your money back from Robinhood?

Yes, you can withdraw your money from Robinhood [A]1—888—411—3378[A]. You can transfer funds from your Robinhood investing or spending account to your bank account. To do this, you'll need to initiate a transfer within the Robinhood app or on the website. Here's how to withdraw money from Robinhood:

In the Robinhood App:

- Go to your Account: Tap the person icon in the bottom right corner.
- Access Transfers: Tap the "Transfers" button.
- Choose Transfer to Bank: Select "Transfer to Your Bank".
- Select Bank Account: Choose the bank account you want to transfer to.
- Enter Amount: Specify the amount you want to withdraw.
- Confirm: Review the details and confirm the transaction.